Coins and Medals are sold at so much per piece. Kindly make your bids accordingly. Do not bid by the lot. If a lot contains 10 pieces and you desire to offer $2.00 for it, make your bid 20c.

My terms for buying are 10 per cent.

Auction Sales are strictly for cash. Parties unknown to me must send a deposit covering at least 25 per cent. of their bids, otherwise they will not be accepted.

My ratings of the condition of Coins and Medals, and the statements made in my Catalogues as to their rarity, etc, are to be distinctly understood as based on my personal judgment, formed after an experience of twenty-seven years as a dealer.

Gradings of Coins or of lots, in other catalogues, should be credited to those who compile them, and their interpretations of this very important factor, should be valued according to whatever experience they may have had, the knowledge acquired, and their integrity of purpose.

F I N I S

The following extract—the closing paragraph—from Mr. B. H. Saxton's article, published in the December issue of the NUMISMATIST, so heartily and thoroughly voices my own sentiments, in its particular direction and special criticism on coin collecting, that I reproduce it here.

I do so with the desire and hope, to extend it to a larger human observation and otherwise emphasize the subject matter also to pay a just tribute and compliment to the author.

A cabinet rich in historical representations—interesting without exception, whether coins or medals—drawn together to aid and satisfy study and research, and to record them with illustrative tablets, is full recompense for every outlay, to the true, earnest and respected numismatist.

February 15th, 1911.

Lyman H. Low.

“A poor investment indeed would be a collection of coins, no matter how well selected, if its market value held the chief interest for the owner; value in the best sense takes no account of price—what one gets out of his collection rather than what he puts into it is the true measure of its worth. Full appreciation of this genuine worth can come only from comprehensive knowledge, and such knowledge cannot be gained by except comprehensive study. What we get by merely scratching the surface is only superficial; the rich veins lie deep, and the collector who is willing to dig for them is never disappointed. This is urged more as a privilege than as a duty; and the fact that a lifetime is all too short to exhaust these riches need not be a discouragement, but an inspiration.”
